How to Enter

Competition opens: Monday 12 March 2018, 12 midday

Competition deadline: Thursday 28 June 2018, 11.59pm

Artists may submit up to 6 recent prints for a non-refundable fee of £15 per picture.

Students can submit up to 6 recent prints for £8 per picture. Students will be required to show student ID when delivering the work to the drop-off location. When submitting student work online, please also scan your student ID and email a copy to recompetition@banksidegallery.com. We will delete it from our system after checking it's valid. Any works found to be falsely submitted as student work will not be hung.

Step 1

Take a good quality digital photograph or scan of each print. They should be photographed unglazed and evenly lit, and cropped to the edge of the work. View the photograph on a computer to make sure you are happy with the picture quality on a larger screen. The judges will make their decision based on this photograph. Check the image file does not exceed 2MB (minimum of 1MB) before saving it as a JPG.

Step 2

Decide on a price for each of your prints. Remember to take into account framing and transport costs, as well as Bankside Gallery's commission of 45% should the work sell. No changes to your price(s) will be possible after the competition deadline so please ensure they are correct.

Step 3

Entry to the competition, uploading of images and payment for each entry will be made through our website.

Go to <https://www.re-printmakers.com/competitions/> and follow the onscreen instructions to make your entry.

You will need to provide

- The artist's name (as they wish to be known on the works list and labels)
- The correct contact email address for the artist *
- The title of the work
- The framed dimensions in centimetres
- Medium
- Framed price for each print
- Unframed price for each print
- Availability of further unframed prints in the edition

* You will be required to give an email address during the application process, as this is how we will contact you if your work is selected. If you do not have an email address, you may use that of a friend or relative, with their permission. We cannot accept entries without an email address.

You will also receive an automatically generated email confirming that you have begun your entry. If you do not complete your submission in full at that time, you can log back into your entry via a link given in this confirmation email to complete your entry at a later date before the deadline.

NO CHANGES may be made to these details after the deadline date so please check them thoroughly.

Incomplete entries or those made without payment received by the competition deadline, will not be shown to the judges.

If you encounter difficulties, you can get in touch at recompetition@banksidegallery.com

Results

A list of prints selected for the exhibition will be published on www.re-printmakers.com/competitions by 6pm on Monday 16 July. Artists whose work has been selected will be sent an email confirming arrangements for the exhibition.

Please check your junk mail at this time to avoid missing this notification. We will try to contact all artists whether successful or not, but given the large volume of applicants we ask you for your patience in waiting to hear from us. Checking whether your work appears on the list of selected prints will be the quickest way for you to find out the result of the competition.

We would like to keep your details in order to inform you about artist opportunities in future. You can request your details to be removed at any time. Your information is stored securely and with respect. We never sell them on to third parties. Please be aware if your work is successfully selected for the competition your first name, surname and name of selected work will be published on our website in a public domain. We will not publish your email address as well.

NB. The Royal Society of Painter-Printmakers always reserves the right not to hang artworks selected from the digital submission should they be different from the one selected, or completely misrepresented by the original digital submission, or should they be poorly framed and not fit for presentation on Bankside Gallery's walls. This decision is at the discretion of the RE and Bankside Gallery.

General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR)

New data protection laws come into force on 25 May 2018. As an entrant to the competition you give us your first name, surname, email address, postal address and telephone number. We do not receive your payment card details as these go through the GDPR compliant Stripe payment system. Please be assured we take keeping your data safe very seriously. You can read our updated Privacy Policy on banksidegallery.com/privacypolicy. In order to inform you about the results of the competition judging, we need to be able to contact you using the email address you have provided us with so that we can carry out the service you are paying us to do. This is our legal basis for storing your contact details until you tell us not to. However, in order to keep you informed about future competitions administered by Bankside Gallery which may interest you, we would like to send you some occasional direct marketing in relation to this topic and the Royal Society of Painter-Printmakers. Please tick the opt-in box after writing your contact details when you enter this competition online in order for us to do so.

Preparing Your Work for Exhibition

An exhibition of selected prints will be held at Bankside Gallery from:

Wednesday 19 – Sunday 30 September 2018.

- Poorly presented prints or works that differ significantly from the photograph that was entered will not be accepted.
- For your work to be insured against theft under Bankside Gallery insurance, your prints must be framed, glazed and fitted with mirror plates. Other display options are welcomed, but you display these works at your own risk.

- If you chose alternative display options you must also ensure that your works can be safely stored and you must provide a safe and secure way in which they can be wrapped and protected if sold. You must also provide clear instructions on the hanging of your work.
- There are no size restrictions on works you can submit. However, artists with extremely large works are advised to contact Bankside Gallery to discuss details prior to submitting.

Framing

- Frames must be of a professional quality. No clip frames or metal frames will be accepted.
- Please note that the RE reserves the right to refuse any poorly presented work.

Mirror-plates

- Framed prints must be supplied with mirror-plates (pictured) screwed to each side of the frame with a pair of screws approximately one-third from the top of the frame. Bubble wrap or card wrapped around the mirror-plates should prevent damage during transit.

- All works are to be handed in unwrapped and will be transported in blankets. All works will be handed out unwrapped so artists will need to bring their own wrapping when they collect their work.

Labels

- You will receive labels for your framed works via email if informed that your print has been accepted. Please fill out the information with the SAME details of name, title of work, medium, framed price (& unframed if editions are available) that you submitted online, and fix one to the front and one to the back of your work. This is so we can identify the work when it is screwed to the wall and label it correctly. No changes to your price will be possible after the competition submission deadline.
- The label on the back should be fitted securely.
- Please make sure the label on the front can be easily removed without leaving a sticky residue. A small piece of masking tape or Scotch "Magic Tape" (pictured) is the best option for this. No sellotape or sticky labels please.

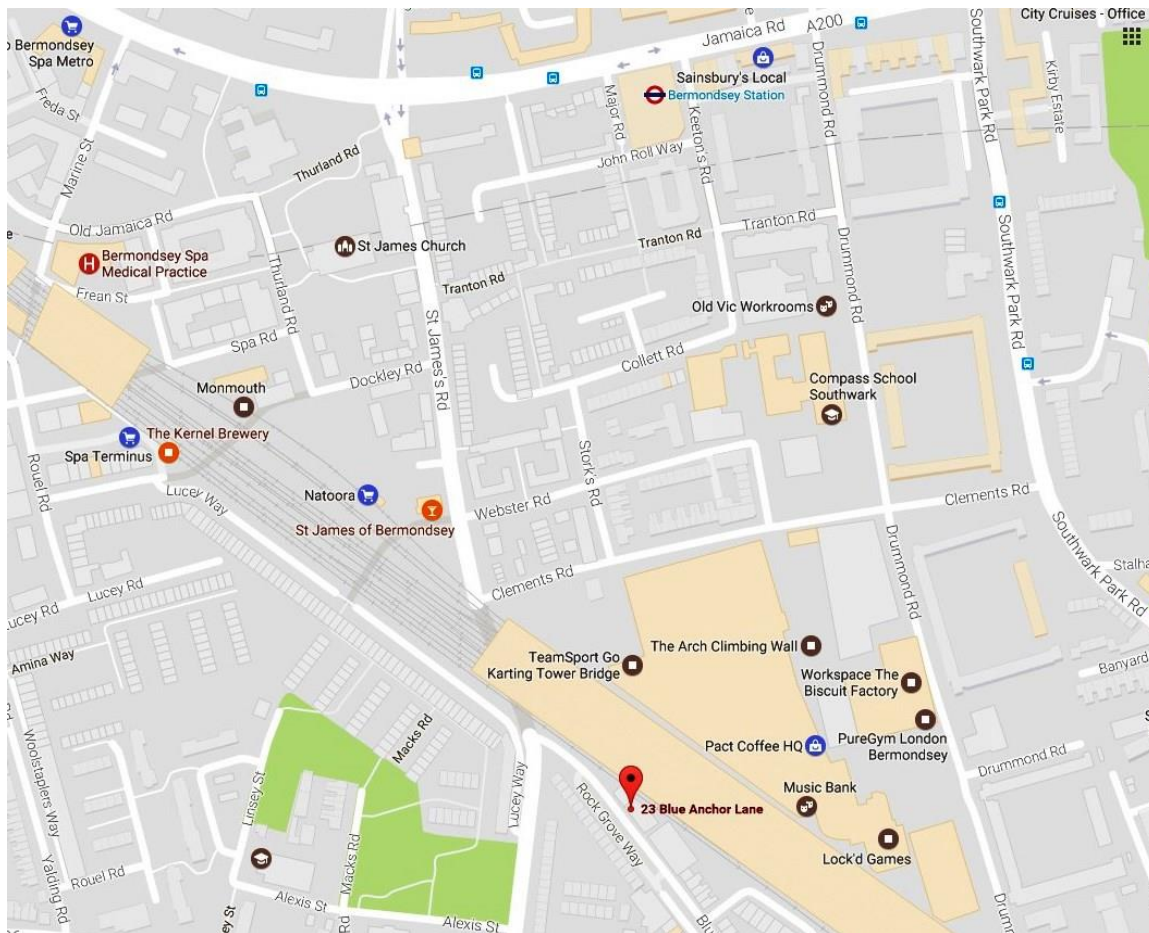

Insurance

- The prints remain at all times the liability of the artist. While every care will be taken when handling artworks neither Bankside Gallery, nor the RE, can accept liability for any damage.
- You may wish to insure your work against loss or damage while it is in transit or at the Bankside Gallery. Prints selected for exhibition will ONLY be insured at the venue (Bankside Gallery) throughout the duration of the exhibition, and once they are screwed to the wall with mirror-plates.

Delivering Your Prints

Sale of Prints

- All prints entered in the competition must be available for sale. Sales and payment will be handled by Bankside Gallery who charge a commission of 45% on picture sales. - Artists will be notified of sales by email shortly after they occur and will receive the balance due within six weeks of the end of the exhibition.

Shipping Policy

- Bankside Gallery cannot store unframed editions of your prints during the exhibition. If a customer wishes to purchase an unframed version of the framed print in the exhibition, we will process this sale as a 'print order' and you will be emailed a copy of the receipted invoice detailing where to post the print.
- Bankside Gallery will not charge buyers for postage and packaging of unframed prints sent within the UK. This P&P cost will be the artist's responsibility so please ensure your unframed price allows for this.
- Bankside Gallery will charge the customer up to £30 for posting an unframed print to Europe. This additional amount will be passed onto the artist to cover postage and packaging costs.
- Bankside Gallery will negotiate an additional charge with the customer to cover international postage and packaging of an unframed print. The amount will vary depending on the size of work, where it is going and whether it is being sent rolled or flat. This additional money will be passed on to the artist to cover costs.
- Bankside Gallery will initiate shipping arrangements for the buyers of a framed piece from the NOPE exhibition to its destination, but then it will be between the buyer and the shipping company. The cost of this will be the buyer's responsibility.

Copyright

The copyright of all works remains vested in the artist, but the right is reserved for Bankside Gallery and/or the sponsors of the exhibition to reproduce any of the prints in connection with the exhibition, and its publicity, free of charge.
