Preparing Your Work for Exhibition

An exhibition of selected prints will be held at Bankside Gallery from: Thursday 17 – Sunday 27 September 2026.

- Poorly presented prints, works that differ significantly from the photograph entered or over the size limit will not be accepted.
- For your work to be insured against theft under Bankside Gallery insurance, your prints must be framed, glazed and fitted with mirror plates. Other display options are accepted, BUT:
 - a) you display these works at your own risk
 - b) you must provide an alternative hanging method that is appropriate to the work and all equipment to do so, eg, clips, magnets, shelves etc
 - c) you must also provide clear instructions on the hanging of your work
 - d) you must provide a safe and secure way in which the work can be safely stored, and also wrapped and protected if sold.

Framing

- Frames must be of a professional quality. No clip frames or metal frames will be accepted.
- Artists are responsible for costs involved with rectifying defective frames or mounting of works in the case of customer complaints regarding sold works for up to 12 months after date of sale.

Mirror-plates

- Framed prints must be supplied with mirror-plates (pictured) fixed with screws approximately halfway down on the back of each side of the frame. Bubble wrap or card wrapped around the mirror-plates should prevent damage during transit.

- All works are to be handed in unwrapped. All works will be handed out unwrapped so artists will need to bring their own wrapping when they collect their work.

Labels

- You will receive labels for your framed works via email if informed that your print has been accepted. Please fill out the information with the SAME details of your name and title of work that you submitted online, and fix one to the front and one to the back of your work. This is so we can identify the work when it is screwed to the wall and label it correctly.
- The label on the back should be fitted securely.
- Please make sure the label on the front can be easily removed without leaving a sticky residue. A small piece of masking tape or Scotch "Magic Tape" (pictured) is the best option for this. No sellotape or sticky labels please.

Insurance

- The prints remain at all times the liability of the artist. While every care will be taken when handling artworks neither Bankside Gallery, nor the RE, can accept liability for any damage.
- You may wish to insure your work against loss or damage while it is in transit or at the Bankside Gallery. Prints selected for exhibition will ONLY be insured against theft at the venue (Bankside Gallery) throughout the duration of the exhibition, and once they are screwed to the wall with mirror-plates.

Copyright

The copyright of all works remains vested in the artist, but the right is reserved for Bankside Gallery and/or the sponsors of the exhibition to reproduce any of the prints in connection with the exhibition, and its publicity, free of charge. Any other enquiries regarding copyright will be referred to the artist.

Delivering Your Prints

Art Moves of Chelsea (artmoveschelsea@aol.com / 020 7352 7492)

Artworks delivered in this way directly will not be hung in the exhibition and will be disposed of immediately. There can be no exceptions to this rule. Please liaise with Picture Post who can receive works from non-art couriers and then deliver it to Bankside Gallery for an additional fee.

- Work will not be accepted if delivered by taxi, Royal Mail, FedEx, DHL etc., as Bankside Gallery do not have specialist art insurance, nor can they unwrap works and remove packaging. Artworks delivered in this way directly to Bankside Gallery will not be hung in the exhibition and will be disposed of immediately. There can be no exceptions to this rule. Please liaise with Picture Post who can receive works from non-art couriers and then deliver the work to Bankside Gallery for an additional fee.

- Artists are advised to get in touch with Picture Post as soon as possible. The hand in dates are for work arriving to the gallery rather than the date to arrive with Picture Post. Please also bear in mind, due to Brexit there have been long delays in Customs, so artists may need to send works earlier than they normally would. Plus, there is now the potential of Customs Charges for artists in the EU.
- Artists shipping work from outside the United Kingdom are fully responsible for compliance with UK customs and tax requirements.

Sale of Prints

- All works entered in the competition must be available for sale. Sales and customer payment will be handled by Bankside Gallery who act as a disclosed agent and charge a commission of 40% plus VAT on picture sales. All works will be sold as seen, so your selling price should take into account the commission, and the framing and transport costs you will have incurred.
- If work is available unframed, and given an unframed price, these unframed work sales will be taken as orders and the gallery policy is to include free P&P to customers within the UK. Please allow for this in your pricing.
- If you are registered for UK VAT, please give the full retail price inclusive of VAT, and notify us that you are VAT registered. We will also need your VAT registration number if a sale of your work occurs.
- Artists will be notified of sales by email shortly after they occur and will receive the balance due within six weeks of the end of the exhibition.
- International artists should take into account they will be responsible for paying any international bank transfer fees incurred by Bankside Gallery in transferring their payments to them. Any fees incurred will be deducted from the total amount due to the artist in the event of a sale of their work.

Neither The RE, nor Bankside Gallery can provide customs or tax advice and accept no responsibility for customs clearance, VAT registration, taxes, delays, storage charges, or compliance matters.

Bankside Gallery Shipping Policy

- Bankside Gallery cannot store unframed prints in your editions during the exhibition. If a customer wishes to purchase an unframed version of the framed print in the exhibition, we will process this sale as a 'print order' and you will be emailed a copy of the receipted invoice detailing where to post the print.
- Bankside Gallery will not charge buyers for postage and packaging of unframed prints sent within the UK. This P&P cost will be the artist's responsibility so please ensure your unframed price allows for this.
- Bankside Gallery will charge the customer up to £30 for posting an unframed print to Europe. This additional amount will be passed onto the artist to cover postage and packaging costs.
- Bankside Gallery will negotiate an additional charge with the customer to cover international (outside of Europe) postage and packaging of an unframed print. The amount will vary depending on the size of work, where it is going and whether it is being sent rolled or flat. This additional money will be passed on to the artist to cover costs.
- Bankside Gallery will initiate shipping arrangements for the buyers of a framed piece from the exhibition to its destination, but then it will be between the buyer and the shipping company. The cost of this will be the buyer's responsibility.

Collecting Unsold Prints

- If you have not been notified of a sale during the exhibition you must collect your unsold work from Bankside Gallery on Sunday 27 September, 6 – 8pm, or Monday 28 September 11am – 5pm.
- Please bring photo ID so we release the artwork to the right person.
- If you are sending a representative or engaging a professional carrier on your behalf, please notify us in advance (submissions@banksidegallery.com). We will check photo ID of the person collecting your work.

- All artworks will be available to collect unwrapped, so you or your representative are advised to bring any packing material required.

INTERNATIONAL ARTISTS:

- You may of course collect work yourself, or send a representative, but if your work is being shipped back to you, please see the information regarding Picture Post's service under 'Delivery of Works' above.
- Bankside Gallery is unable to pack and send work back to the artist.

Frequently asked questions

Is there a size limit for works?

YES! Small But Mighty is all about work on a small scale. Please be sure to be within the size restriction or your entry will be automatically rejected. Works must be no larger than 50cm (framed size) on the largest edge.

My work involves printmaking and along with other mediums – will it be eligible?

Work involving other mediums is accepted eg. mixed media, collage, hand painting. However, this is a printmaking exhibition therefore the predominant element of the work needs to be printmaking.

Do you accept digital prints?

We do absolutely accept digital prints, as long as they are limited edition prints created using digital processes, not digital reproductions of another work.

Our definition is stated on our website <https://www.re-printmakers.com/printmaking-explained/digital-printmaking/>

Do you accept open editioned work?

No, all work must be made in a single limited edition and numbered accordingly.

I am submitting an artist's book – can I submit more than one image to represent it?

Sorry, our submission system allows only one image per work entered, in cases like this please choose one image that represents the contents of the book for your online submission. State clearly in the medium that it is an artist book and the selectors will take this in to account.

What if my work is not suitable to be displayed framed?

We welcome alternative ways of displaying work, however, artists must make provisions for this in that the display method must be suitable for the work and a professional gallery setting. Any additional fixings that will be needed must be provided by the artist and full instructions given for the gallery hanging team.

Artists must be aware that any works not displayed framed and fitted with mirror plates will not be covered by the gallery insurance and so will be displayed at the artist's own risk.

Can I submit work if I live abroad?

Yes! As long as you are willing to arrange transportation of your work to and from the designated delivery and collection location in London should it be selected. We welcome applications from all artists wherever they are based.

Can I enter work on behalf of an artist who is no longer living?

I'm afraid we do not accept submissions from deceased artists, this competition is for contemporary artists only.

I'm having trouble logging in to the submission system, why does it not recognise my password that I have used previously to enter RE competitions?

Are you trying to log in with your Zealous account password? We have a new system since our last RE competition, so you'll need to create a new account this time.

Still not sure? Email submissions@banksidegallery.com with your question.
